- Aaron has received calls from Industry members who are interested in attending training on the new code changes. Aaron acknowledges that attendance will be down at training because most jurisdictions don't have money to spend on them. He suggests increasing the price to attend training, to cover the cost of the teacher.
- Paul suggested asking Industry members to contribute to the training costs. He suggests we think outside the box and ask our contacts in the fire, solar, special inspection industries, etc. He reminded the group that for ICC to issue CEU's, classes will first need to be approved by ICC.
